

THE CONVENTION ON “INCLUSIVE GROWTH & ETHICS IN MANAGEMENT” On 21st JANUARY 2012 At C K REDDY HALL ALT TRAINING CENTRE, GHAZIABAD

Background

Despite the fact that India has been reckoned as one of the fastest growing economy, a major weakness is that the growth is not perceived as being sufficiently inclusive for many groups, especially the economically weaker sections. Gender inequality also remains a pervasive problem. The lack of inclusiveness is borne out by data on several dimensions of performance.

For growth to be sustainable, it needs to be broad-based covering all related sections of the society and should be inclusive of the vulnerable sections of the society including a large part of the country's labour force. The parameters indicating quality of life are higher and quality education, skill development, and better health care. Equality in social opportunities such as to minority, women and the physically challenged is of paramount importance for inclusive development. This needs to be addressed by all sectors viz. Industry, service sector and governance.
